CABLE NEWS

Crops in Europe.

London, Aug. 24. A mass of details concerning the condition of the growing crops, has recently been published. It seems to be the general impression that the continuance of the late dry and cold weather has been of immense service to the country. Much of the corn has already been gathered and another fortnight like the past and the crisis will be over. The copious rains which fell some time ago though they delayed, did not damage the corn. The favorable change in the weather stopped the advance in corn, but great fluctuations are still expected as the crops throughout Europe, with the exception of the interior of Russia, promise to be light.

The Cuban Question.

The Telegraph (Liberal) in an editorial today, says, "If Cuba severed her connections with Spain it would only be to form a new bond with the United States. England could feel no jealousy at an aggrandizement which would complete the abolition of slavery as an institution. The loss of Cuba to Spain would be an unquestionable gain to the mother country, the colony and the cause of mankind."

THE CASE OF SCHOONER MARY JANE. It was announced a day or two ago that the schooner Mary Jane, bound from St. Domingo to Boston, had been fallen in with by steamer Port au Prince, and her captain and two seamen found dead from yellow fever, while the other two men on board were suffering from the same disease. The vessel was towed into New York. It now appears that in addition to the suffering from fever, the crew had been without food and water for five days. The sufferers were removed to the quarantine ship and properly cared for. The names of those who died are Israel Nickerson of Barrington, Nova Scotia, captain; John A. Swan, seaman, of Barrington, and Lewis Chandy, cook. The survivors are L. Nickerson, mate; and Samuel S. Smith, seaman. Smith is not expected to live.

A Washington dispatch to the New York Evening Post says information has been received there that two vessels lately left Jacksonville, Florida, with ammunition of every description, for Cuba. It is said that the United States authorities, although aware where the vessels were going, and for what purpose the cargo would be used, took no means to prevent them from sailing. This new violation of the neutrality laws is the subject of a good deal of talk in political circles.

CATTLE DISEASE IN SHREWSBURY. A disease, thought to be the pleuro-pneumonia, having appeared in a herd of cattle in the eastern part of Shrewsbury, Mass., causing much apprehension among the farmers in that and adjoining towns, the selectmen sent for Dr. Thayer of Newton, who visited the herd last week. There were in the pasture about twenty head of young cattle, nearly all afflicted with a cough more or less severe. Two were very much reduced. Dr Thayer said the symptoms were not those of pleuro-pneumonia, and in order to ascertain the nature of the disease one of the animals was killed. The external appearance of the lungs was that of health; but on cutting into their substance the bronchial tubes were found to be filled with minute thread-like worms, so numerous as to occlude, apparently, these tubes throughout their extent, and thus render respiration impossible. These worms resemble fine white threads cut into lengths varying from one to three inches, invested with life and forced promiscuously into the air passages of the lungs. This disease is very rare in this country, but somewhat common elsewhere, and is fully described by English authors.—It is probable, says the Westboro' Chronotype, from which we derive these facts, that the disease is not contagious, but 'endemic;' that is, that it prevails in certain localities from a cause not understood.

THE HARVARD BOAT CREW. A special cable dispatch from London, received on Saturday evening, says:

"The Oxford crew were out for practice again to-day. They made a good pace, with thirty-eight to thirty-nine strokes per minute, well pulled. The Harvard crew were also out with the Jewett boat. The coxswain's seat has been lowered, which increased the steadiness. They got away briskly at nearly 40 strokes per minute. Their rowing is regarded as very satisfactory. Good judges think that the Harvards are likely to take the lead in the race. At the special desire of the Harvard crew Thomas Hughes, ex-member of Parliament for Oxford, has been appointed referee. Mr. Simmons of the Harvard crew, is slightly indisposed today. The betting is now seven to four on the Oxfords."

A special by the French cable to the Boston Sunday Times of yesterday, dated Paris Aug. 21, says:

"The Harvards were out this afternoon, and the Oxfords followed in the evening.—Splendid time was made by the Harvards, but it begins to be whispered that they have been overtrained. The betting remains about the same that it has during the past week."

"There are private telegrams in town from European gentlemen, who ought to understand the subject, which state that the Harvard men have been overtrained in their preparation for the race of next Friday, so that they are already showing signs of breaking down. This coincides with the statements of the London Times of Thursday.

Overtraining is a mistake into which a crew of enthusiastic young men, gradually struggling against disadvantages, might very easily fall. Instances of it are abundant in the history of athletic sports and it would not be remarkable if our young champions of Harvard should have been led into an error which only great experience and the most cautious judgment can always be sure of avoiding."

JOHN H. LYNDE, - - PROPRIETOR.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 25, 1869.

State Election, Monday, Sept. 13.

Class Conventions.

Republican Conventions, for the purpose of nominating candidates for Representatives to the Legislature, will be holden as follows: In class composed of Bradford, Charleston and Lagrange, at Town House, Bradford, SATURDAY AFTERNOON, Sept. 4, at 2 o'clock.

Enfield, Lowell, Burlington, Greenfield, &c., at Passadumkeag, on MONDAY, Sept. 6th, at 10 o'clock A. M.

Now for an Aroostook Railroad.

In nominating candidates for the Legislature, there is one point which should not be neglected: We need legislators who are well up in the enterprises of the day, and especially imbued with the idea that railroads are the great desideratum of this State. We do not speak particularly to our own political friends upon this subject; for upon this, all parties may combine and will be expected to combine in the Legislature in order to develop the ample resources of our State, which have so long suffered for better communication.

This part of the State is especially interested in the subject, as more depends with us for future wealth and power upon increased facilities for trade than with any other section. And there is one object to which we should, most especially pay attention. We must next winter have a railroad chartered to connect the northern part of Aroostook with the Penobscot valley. A little effort now can accomplish a good deal that might cost much delay by being neglected. The European Railway is every day almost every hour demonstrating the fact that to the Penobscot river may be turned all the trade that is now being sluiced from our own territory through a foreign province to enrich foreign merchants and corporations. Every additional mile that the road strides toward the rich lands of Aroostook discloses much new trade that may easily be diverted to this city.

In writing upon this subject recently a correspondent of the Boston Journal mentions the project to connect Houlton with the St. Andrews Railroad by a branch "which will take the trade from Houlton and much of that county, out through New Brunswick." And the writer concludes:

"This, Maine, and especially Bangor, should not permit to be done. Aroostook county is five times as large as Rhode Island; and two-thirds as large as New Hampshire, and contains some of the best land in this or any other State. Its trade should certainly be kept within our own country, and should come to Bangor."

Our people are already sufficiently aroused to the importance of an Aroostook railroad. But are they sufficiently alive to the means at command to procure it? Do they understand that upon primary political action depends the desired result?

A railroad might just as well have been chartered last winter as to wait till next, and its construction might have been well under way before the close of this year; but we neglected to discuss it properly before election, and the Legislature was not favorable to it. It should not be the case again. There is no enterprise in which the State is so much interested as this link to connect its remote parts and to develop so large a tract as the road would reach.

By all means let us not longer neglect to take hold of this subject in earnest, and to put our promises for an Aroostook Railroad into practice. We can do it.

Tammany is moving. It moves this time upon one of its own party, but who does not happen to enjoy the confidence of that Society which sags the island of Manhattan. It moves upon the individual works of Mr. August Belmont, that bloated bondholder who has served for many years as Chairman of the Democratic National Committee. A branch meeting a few evenings since resolved that Mr. Belmont is cursed with a "dearth of capacity, lack of purpose, and want of acceptability," and charged him with being responsible for the defeat of both McClellan and Seymour for President. We did not know before to whom the country is indebted for those salutary results, verdantly supposing they were attributable to several hundred thousand voters who liked somebody else better. Mr. Belmont is henceforth glorified in our eyes somewhat. Of the inefficiency of Mr. Belmont in an intellectual point of view they ought to know very well, but he certainly is endowed with the Asa Packer style of ability, and is able to purchase a good many voters. How can they spare him? But he doesn't believe in Tammany, and as the Democracy of the whole country is to be run in the interest of that gang, he must step down. This is a Hoffman move. Lively time they'll have of it if they keep on. They are a sweet and lovely brotherhood.

The Portland Argus has found it necessary to swallow one of its legionary scurrilous falsehoods. It had insinuated that Congressman Blaine had ordered a magnificent carriage of the Kimballs in Portland. The Kimballs are Democrats, but not to that extent that the Argus boasts. They voluntarily deny the slander. There was no particle of foundation for the story. But that makes little difference to a Democratic organ, whose cause the facts will not serve.

We are happy to learn that Mrs. Barry has entirely recovered from her late sickness, and will resume her professional duties after the first of September. Her first engagements to sing are in Vermont and New Hampshire, fifth and third of September.

The Dubuque (Iowa) Times thinks the Republican party of Maine have been particularly fortunate in their selection of a candidate for Governor. "They might have searched the State over and they could not have found a more worthy standard bearer than Gen. Chamberlain. He will lead the Republicans of Maine to victory in September."

The National Labor Congress, held at Philadelphia, has adjourned. The principal features of the platform adopted are opposition to land monopolies and all incorporations granting special privileges to men or classes; favor co-operation; the support of educational movements; denounces the National banking system; support legal tender currency; demand that they may be made payable for all debts, public and private; declare opposition to the payment of the debt in any other money than that in which the contract was made, and pronounces in favor of a long bond, bearing three per cent. interest, convertible into greenbacks, or vice versa. Among other planks were the denouncing of prison and Coolie labor, and the declaration that the expenses of the war ought to be assessed on the accumulated wealth, instead of being left as a legacy to posterity. The Congress declared that its platform was not to be construed as favoring repudiation. Mr. Richard Trevillick of Michigan, was elected President, Mr. Walsh of New York, Secretary, and Col. Kulm, Vice President.

Letter from the West.

[illegible] WEIRS [illegible], Aug. 18, 1869.
To the Editor of the Daily Whig:

Cincinnati, Chicago, St. Louis, [illegible], Memphis and many other cities [illegible] importance are moving in the matter, and although [illegible] would be proud to [illegible] the National [illegible] St. Louis [illegible] which all can [illegible] A convention of delegates representing all [illegible] interested will soon be called [illegible] the matter will be fully [illegible] upon [illegible] members of Congress [illegible] the Southwest will [illegible] upon the [illegible] carry the [illegible] Louis is ready to [illegible] of land [illegible] argument of [illegible] the buildings [illegible] repair, and [illegible] millions [illegible] growing [illegible] nearly [illegible] out of [illegible] carried [illegible] opposition [illegible] What [illegible] Washington [illegible] "great [illegible] pay the [illegible] monopoly [illegible] yet the [illegible] Congress [illegible] confess [illegible] have [illegible] over of the [illegible] during [illegible] Jersey to [illegible] no the wiser—nor [illegible].

[illegible] the Young Men's Free Trade League, the Rev. M. Blanchard, formerly of Brooklyn, now of Indianapolis, is travelling through the West and enlightening the people (with regard to the injury the manufacturing east is imposing upon the agricultural West in keeping up a high rate of tariff on imported articles. In doing this Mr. Blanchard is but uttering the sentiments of a large majority of western people. Mr. Blanchard is an eloquent speaker, logical reasoner, and [illegible] confess that my New England prejudices in favor of high tariff was somewhat shaken by his speech. The West is determined to fight this high tariff at the next session of Congress, and bring the nation as near to a free trade standard as possible. They argue that if manufacturing corporations at home cannot compete with foreign companies without the Atlantic to intervene, then those corporations ought to leave the business to foreign countries and combine West and [illegible] and stock or South and grow cotton and wool.

We are watching your political canvass now progressing, with some interest. It would seem that the memory of the [illegible] of Anson P. Morrill, by Gov. Wells, on strictly prohibitory grounds has passed from the minds of the more radical of the temperance men. In this section the Hitchborn movement is looked upon as calculated only to weaken the cause of temperance by reducing the majority of the great Republican party—the only friend temperance and freedom ever had. If the leaders of this movement contemplate a National party on strictly prohibitory grounds, which is to supplant the Republican party, they only show how little they are acquainted with public sentiment in the West and South — In cool, Puritan New England you have a public sentiment that condemns the vending or manufacture of intoxicating drinks. Your prohibitory law would be comparatively harmless without this public sentiment; it could not be enforced. When you have a law sufficiently stringent to make the keeping of open saloons and bars hazardous, you have removed the great temptation to intemperance offered to the young. The young man will never form the habit of drinking if he finds it necessary to descend into low dens to obtain drink. Before a strictly prohibitory party can stand a chance of success in the West and South, each of these States need a score of your good, earnest, conscientious temperance lecturers for at least a year to bring public sentiment up to a standard like that of New England, which will exclude a young man from good society if seen frequenting bar-rooms and tippling-shops. We have vast German populations, who are giving new vitality to our American fading strength; these people would regard it as an infringement on their sacred rights if we were to dictate to them what they should or should not drink or eat; at home wine and beer have been their common beverage, and although they readily adopt our customs and conform to our usages in other respects, they will not discard their beer—in this respect they will probably die German. Nor does this unfit them for work or business. But the American is not made of such phlegmatic material when he drinks [illegible] for intoxication. Some of your leading temperance men come to Chicago in September to attend the National Temperance Convention, and it is to be hoped they will try and acquaint themselves with the great work they have to perform in overcoming this evil. If they could have been present at the German National Sangerfest held in Chicago last summer, and seen the quantity of beer drank at Wright's Grove on Sunday, when the festival was at its height, and observed the great good nature that seemed to possess all the drinkers, they might possibly have had a more lenient feeling toward hard drinking; or if reform had been uppermost in their minds, they would have considered their task one of gigantic proportions. Although always a member of your rigid temperance organizations while at home, I yet sincerely hope that those men in the Republican ranks who stand in the way of the election of that gallant soldier, accomplished scholar and sound statesman, Gen. Chamberlain, will be so thoroughly discomfited at your coming election, as to prevent their ever again undertaking such a ruinous move.

It often occurs that Eastern capitalists are looking West for suitable locations in which to establish manufactories. If there are any such let me call their attention to this point. It is on a parallel with New York city; is fine a wheat and corn growing section as is the West; well timbered with oak, elm and black-walnut, not far distant from the great trade centres—Chicago, Detroit, Toledo, St. Louis—inhabited by a wealthy class of farmers, and in every way possessing the elements of progress. Heretofore this immediate section has suffered from want of a railroad, but measures have lately been taken which insure the construction of a line from Detroit to St. Louis direct, connecting at the former place with the Grand Trunk. There are the best of facilities for the manufacture of furniture, carriages, cotton, wool, leather, in fact almost all the commodities needed by an agricultural or trading people. The raw material can be easily obtained and good market found for the manufactured articles. Northern Indiana is deficient in manufactories. S.

Political and Personal.

Gen. Sherman is quoted as recently saying that an early recognition of Cuban belligerency is probable.

An interview with Pendleton reveals nothing of consequence. He is still in favor of paying the national debt in greenbacks.

George William Curtis thinks that although the Democratic party is no longer formidable as a party of principles, yet as an organized conspiracy against the purity of the ballot box it is still much to be feared.

The officers to be chosen at the New York election this year are as follows: Two Judges of Court of Appeals, Secretary of State, Comptroller, Treasurer, Attorney General, State Engineer and Surveyor, Canal Commissioner and Inspector of State Prisons.

The members of the late Republican Convention in Texas have appealed to Secretary Boutwell to use his influence in their behalf and in opposition to Jack Hamilton, who they say heads a promiscuous force of Conservatives, ex-Rebels, Ku Klux and Johnson men.

The Tennessee correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette, in carefully considering the prospects of Andrew Johnson for the U. S. Senatorship, gives seven reasons why he cannot probably be elected, although it is admitted that he was the choice of the majority of the supporters of Senter at the polls, and will make every effort to secure the election.

Hon. John W. Geary, Governor of Pennsylvania, defended his administration against the misrepresentations of his Democratic opponents in a speech at Gettysburg on Tuesday evening, showing that he had been more considerate in the exercise of the pardoning power.

The Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Press says the friends of Chief Justice Chase are open and loud-mouthed in their assertion that they have assurances of support for him from the South for the next Presidential election. They say that the Conservative Republican movement in the South was organized for his benefit, and the result of the Dent movement in Mississippi will in the end demonstrate the wisdom of their predictions.

Emerson Etheridge is evidently bent upon the U. S. Senatorship. In a speech at Danville he denounced Andrew Johnson in unmeasured terms, referring to the trial of Mrs. Surratt and reciting the ineffectual prayers of her daughter for mercy. As for repudiation he said he would not declare himself for it, except as an extreme measure, as a last resort, and he prophesied that in less than two years, however, repudiation would be the doctrine announced from every forum by candidates for office.

OUR COUNTY NOMINATIONS. The Jeffersonian thus speaks of the new men who have been presented for office by the Republicans of this county:

The new men nominated for Senators, Messrs. Buffum and Fuller, are pledged by those who are personally intimate with them to recognize no measure or view of persons or things, which do not clearly commend themselves to the true Republicans of the county. They are worthy men, and well qualified to perform the duties of State Senators, with credit to themselves and their constituents.

Another new man on the ticket is Horace J. Nickerson, Esq., nominated for County Treasurer, in place of Mr. Fling, whose contemplated removal to another State is most sincerely regretted by the best men of the county. His administration of the financial affairs of the county for the past fifteen years successively, has been uniformly able, efficient and entirely satisfactory to the people of the county. Very fortunate it is [illegible] Mr. Nickerson, who is universally known to be a man of sterling integrity, clear-headed and well qualified in all respects for the office, if he shall make, as we have no doubt he will, as popular and successful a County Treasurer as his predecessor.

Francis A. Reed, Esq., of Springfield, the nominee for County Commissioner, is well known in the community in which he has lived for many years, as an intelligent and thoroughly honest man. He possesses good common sense, and is a man of excellent judgment, of substance rather than show. He is deemed by all who know him as well qualified to discharge the duties of the important office of County Commissioner, and in common with every other nominee on the county ticket should receive the entire vote of the Republicans of this county.

Honesty is the Best Policy.

Under this head the N. Y. Post gives an abstract of the receipts and expenditures of the United States Government for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1869, which have just been published by the Bureau of Statistics, in a tabular form.

UNITED STATES REVENUES AND EXPEN[DITURES],
JUNE 30, 1869.

Customs	$179,996,120
Internal taxes	159,122,219
Direct tax	[illegible]
Lands	4,023,285
Miscellaneous	27,752,786
Total	$370,893,715
Civil service	$60,524,051
Pensions and Ind.	36,510,539
War	78,502,133
Navy	20,000,769
Interest	130,694,242
Total	$321,011,014
Receipts over expenses	$49,852,701

But of this entire surplus of nearly fifty millions more than forty-five millions have been gained in the fourth quarter of the year—from April 1 to June 30, the first quarter of the administration of President Grant.

A part of this large gain during the last three months of the fiscal year has been due to the fact that the internal revenue tax for these months includes most of the income tax for the year; and is therefor larger by eighteen millions of dollars than that of either of the preceding quarters. But, on the other hand, this period has been one of peculiar dullness and depression in trade; and the customs receipts have been below the average of the year, and more than five million lower, than in the first or third quarter of the year.

Again, the expenditures of the quarter were nearly twenty-one millions of dollars, or seven millions per month less than those, on the average, of the nine months preceding. This gain is due in large measure to the improvement of the executive government in honesty and efficiency. It may reasonably be insisted that the first and most pressing work of this administration was to reform the civil service; and it may be questioned, on the whole, whether history affords an example of a similar work, the immediate result of which were more striking and brilliant.

PUBLIC DEBT STATEMENT. The public debt statement for the present month will show little or no change since the July statement. The fifteen millions of dollars required for pension, together with the necessary expenditures, will consume about all the receipts for the month, leaving the debt about the same. Although the collections of internal revenue have been large they will not meet the unusual demand upon the Treasury at this time.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.

On the 1st of Sept., about $4,604,175 income will be taken from the Treasury to pay the semi-annual instalments of interests of the 10-40 bonds.

The amount of bonds outstanding are $1,307,500.

No further payments of gold interest will fall due after this until the 1st of November next, when about $28,000,000 will be required to pay the semi-annual instalment of the interest on the 5-20's.

Gov. Senter, Col. D. M. Nelson, Gen J A Mabry, and Col. John B. Brownlow, of Tennessee, are here, en route for New York.

Gov. Senter will return in a few days for the purpose of calling on the President.

London, August 24th—Evening. Sugar about 28s.

Paris, Aug 24 The Empress and Prince Imperial have arrived at Lyons on their way to the East.

The Senate will meet to-morrow to hear the report on the Senatus Consultum.

The late American Minister to Paraguay, Gen. McMahon, and Mrs. Worthington, from Buenos Ayres, are reported on their way to the United States.

It is reported that when Minister McMahon approached the lines of the allies, on his return from the headquarters of President Lopez, he was badly received by the Brazilians. His escort bearing a white flag was attacked by some cavalry, although Count Deu had notified the army of the expected arrival of the Minister.

London, Aug 24th. The Harvard four were out this morning in Elliot's boat which was weighted to the standard of the Englishmen boat. They were stroked this time by a stranger. The performance of the new boat was satisfactory. It is thought that the crew are more formidable opponents in this than in any other craft which they have tried. They started with thirty-eight strokes per minute, and went to Hammersmith bridge and back.

In the evening the Harvard and Oxford crews both rowed over the entire course—from Putney to Mortlake,—the latter making the distance in 13 seconds less time than the Harvards.

The opinion is generally entertained by Englishmen that the Oxford crew must win, but the appearance of the crew hardly warrants the assertion that either is superior to the other.

The result will mainly depend upon the skill of the coxswain and his perfect knowledge of the course. If the boats are well steered from the soap works through Hammersmith bridge, past Ait Island, and are then well together, the result will depend entirely on muscular force.

Constantinople, Aug. 24. A messenger has arrived from Alexandria with the reply of the Viceroy of Egypt to the Sultan's note. It was received by the Grand Vizier, who communicated its contents to the Sultan. Ismail Pacha gives ample assurance of his loyalty.

President Grant.

SARATOGA, Aug. 24.

President Grant has notified Leland of the Union Hotel that he will reach Saratoga Tuesday, the 28th inst.

PROVIDENCE, Aug. 24.

President Grant attended the reunion of the Grand Army of the Republic today at Ocean Cottage, three miles below this city. He came up from Newport on the steamer Bay Queen and was accompanied by Mrs. Grant, Secretary Boutwell, ex-Senator Morgan and wife and Senator Anthony, General Porter and others, Capt. Douglass and ex-Governor Dyer received him at the steamer, as a Committee of the Grand Army of the Republic. At the Cottage he was received by the Marine artillery, and welcomed by General Horatio Rogers, to whose address the President briefly responded. Probably 10,000 people were assembled on the grounds of the Ocean Cottage. The President was entertained at a clam-bake, visited the various points of interest and at two o'clock reembarked with his suite for Newport, where he dined last evening with L. P. Morton of New York.

WORCESTER, Mass. Aug. 24.

The Democratic State Convention met here to-day and was largely attended. Hon. L. Woodbury was chosen President. The Convention nominated John Quincy Adams for Governor, and completed the State ticket as follows: For Lieut. Governor, S. C. Lamb of Greenfield; Secretary of State John K. Tarbox of Lawrence; Treasurer, Mr. Heywood of Gardner; for Attorney General, J. G. Abbott of Boston; Auditor, Phineas Allen of Pittsfield. Resolutions were adopted in substance that the Democratic party, acquiescing in settled results; should turn their attention from the issues of yesterday to those of to-day; demand economy in expenses; denounce Republicans for swelling the State debt by grants of State aid to private enterprises; protest against the public scandal of long Legislative sessions; declare that the limitation of the elective franchise is unjust and should be repealed; arraigns the Republicans for refusing to legislate in favor of workingmen and declares the prohibitory law an outrage on the liberty of the people.

Railroad Accident.

ALBANY, Aug. 23.

The morning train from Oneida to this city on the Susquehanna Railroad, was thrown from the track about one mile from Emmon's station, by running over a span of horses. The locomotive and baggage car was badly injured, but the passenger cars and passengers escaped injury.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 24.

Owing to the stoppage of the paper mills at Manayunk, which were were all run by water power, the price of paper has advanced 2½ and 3 cents per pound. Some manufacturers are arranging to put in steam engines. These mills made 15 tons of paper daily.

Grand Commandery Knights Templar.

PORTLAND, Aug. 24.

The Grand Commandery of Knights Templar of Maine, went into camp at Cushing Island, Portland harbor, today, 350 strong, under Grand Commander Chas. H. McLellan. Ten Commanderies are represented. They arrived by boats and special trains and were received by the city Commanderies and escorted to Masonic Hall, and thence to steamer Ella, in which they embarked at one o'clock for the Island. They will remain in camp four days, returning Friday P. M., when the whole command will parade in the city.

From Havana.

HAVANA, Aug. 22.

The Governor of Matanzas, in a communication to the Captain General, says the insurgents have been driven from the neighbourhood of Jacquey Grande, and that they retreated eastward.

Advices from Santa Espiritu are to the effect that Gen. Quesada's power had not appeared at that place as was expected.

Meteor.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 24.

A remarkable meteor was seen here about 9 o'clock this evening in the west. Instead of moving horizontally as is usual, it ascended vertically and then descended over the same course, exploding and leaving a fleecy cloud like smoke, or steam, which lasted in the sky about 10 minutes.

Steamers Burned.

ST LOUIS, Aug 24.

The steamers Evening Star, and War Eagle were burned at the levee at four o'clock this morning.

Railroad Matters.

WORCESTER, Mass., Aug. 24.

The property of the Worcester Horse Railroad Company, which has created so much discussion for the past year, was to-day sold at auction by the Receivers. It was bid in by a number of members of the Company for $25,000.

Monetary Affairs.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.

Wall street was today the scene of more activity and animation than for some time past, and there have been some lively speculative movements in the stock exchange and the gold room.

The money market to-day was easy at 6 a 7 per cent. the early part of the day, but afterwards became the general rate, and before 3 o'clock loans were made at 5 per cent.

Supreme Judicial Court—Criminal Term.

CUSHING J., presiding.
C. P. STETSON, Esq., Co. Atty.

Tuesday, Aug. 24, 1869.

Penny was indicted at the February Term, 1868, as a common seller of intoxicating liquors, and also at the August Term, 1868, for a like offence. To these indictments he demurred, and the cases went to the Law Court, were overruled, and to-day they came up for sentence. On the first he was sentenced to pay a fine of $100 and costs, on the second $100 and costs, and three months confinement in the County Jail.

He was also indicted at this term as a common seller, and under four convictions for the like offence, upon which he was tried today and found guilty and sentenced by the Court to pay a fine of $200 and costs, and four months confinement in County Jail, to take effect after the expiration of former sentences.

Penny was also tried upon a search and seizure process, brought here by him upon appeal. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty.

These sentences give to Mr. Penny seven months' confinement in County Jail, and payment of about $500 fines and costs, which he is able to and must pay, being a man of considerable property. The cases included in all the above indictments, extend back to the month of July, 1867. Can a man afford to be a common seller of intoxicating liquors for two years at such a price?

Penny keeps a tavern in Alton; and was determined to sell intoxicating liquor; the town authorities of Alton were determined that he should not sell. The result of the contest is seen as above. The power of the Maine law has in this case been fully tested. The defendant has had the best of counsel in Messrs Peters & Wilson.

State vs David W Jones & al. Jones was indicted with Joseph E Walker for breaking into the store of Henry C Friend, in Dixmont last March. Walker plead guilty. Jones was tried and found guilty upon his own confessions.

J. Crosby for Defence.

State vs Daniel W Jones & al. For breaking into store of Ingalls & Co, in Dexter with Joseph E Walker, who plead guilty. Jones was tried and found guilty.

J. Crosby for Defence.

ON TRIAL.

State vs George Snow. Indicted with Henry Pickard for an assault upon George A Delano at Hampden. Delano keeps tavern. Pickard wanted his bottle filled and called with Snow, after Delano had gone to bed, to get it filled. Delano refused; a fight ensued. Delano was struck by Pickard and Snow was struck by Delano.

Stetson County Attorney. A. KNOWLES.

POLICE COURT.—Tuesday, August 24th.—Thomas Donohoe was fined $1 and costs for drunkenness.

—Our fruit stores are making a fine show of fruit just now; beautiful apples and pears and the finest display of peaches we have had for years, make one's mouth water, and to wish he was able to indulge as freely as he would like.

—The wind got round into the north east yesterday, and the weather clouded up and looked like rain, but the wind hauled round before night and the evening was clear and bright.

LAUNCHING. The fine barque "Carry Wyman," 500 tons burthen, will be launched at McGilvery & Co.'s yard in Brewer today at about one o'clock.

Workmen have been at work for several days past blowing rocks out of the stream near Stetson & Co.'s wharf. A premature explosion yesterday came near furnishing us with material for an item, but fortunately no one was hurt.

DEMOCRATIC COUNTY CONVENTION. The Democratic County Convention assembled at City Hall yesterday and was organized by choice of Frank Hamblin, of Oldtown as Chairman, and D M Hall, Jr, of Hermon, as Secretary. Levi B Patten of Hermon, S D Jennings of Garland, and Asa W Smith of Mattawamkeag, were nominated for Senators. Timothy P Batchelder of Kenduskeag for County Treasurer, and James Garland, of Carmel, for County Commissioner. The Convention was addressed by Dr Ladd, Levi B Patten, Esq., Hon Gorham L Boynton and Marcellus Emery.

—Mr George A Bartlett, having decided to leave this city, advertises his business for sale in another column. He has a good stock of books and stationery, and a good opportunity is offered some enterprising man. His offer will only remain open for a few days.

—The Fall term of the public schools will commence on Monday next, Aug. 30th.

HORSE TROT. At Mountain View Park, Bucksport, Wednesday September 1st, a purse of $225 will be offered for all horses owned in the State, $75 for horses that never beat 2.42. Also a purse of $40 for horses that never beat 3 minutes. All entries must be made on or before Friday, Aug. 27, to Ivory Grant, Bucksport.

—On Monday last, the town of Brewer voted unanimously to raise and appropriate six hundred dollars to pay the incidental expenses attending upon the survey of the railroad route from Bangor to Bucksport, and for similar purposes; and the following gentlemen were appointed as the railroad committee of the town to act in concert with similar committees of the other towns interested in the enterprise: Dr B F Tefft, Capt Gilbert Soule, A O Willison, Esq, Deacon Daniel Sargent, Jr, and Dr R K Cushing. A great deal of enthusiasm was manifested; and the town voted to apply to the legislature for an act enabling it to loan its credit to the road for a sum not to exceed ten per cent of its valuation, in addition to what will be subscribed by individuals. So the ball on the Bucksport route seems to be rolling on.

ONE OF OUR BANGOR BOYS PRESIDING AS PRESIDENT OF A MILITARY COURT. The War Department records many deeds of daring and success of Gen. Edward Hatch, whose division of cavalry did such successful service in Gen Geo H Thomas' department, checking Hood, before and defeating him at the Battle of Nashville, and his friends will be glad to hear that he is still in good health, and is Col. of the 9th U. S. Cavalry. He is now the presiding officer in an important court for the trial of the Jefferson City (Texas) prisoners.

—The Portland Advertiser says that about 350 head of thorough-bred neat stock have been entered in the Secretary's books for exhibition at the Maine and New England Fairs, chiefly from the thorough-bred breeders of the New England States other than Maine, and the Canadas.

—About half a ton of small stones and gravel fell from a height of 25 feet last Wednesday upon Mr Moses Boothby, of Saco, while digging a well, causing severe wounds and bruises, though not dangerous ones, says the Biddeford Journal.

—The Lewiston Journal says a young man named Lafayette Hackett was severely injured by falling from a barn whose timbers were just being raised on Capt John Penley's premises, in Auburn. He struck several timbers in his descent, and sustained severe bruises and the rupture of a blood vessel in the thigh. He will probably recover.

—The Argus says that a would be "one more unfortunate," young and fair, leaped from Deering's bridge, Portland, into the Back Bay, Saturday evening, with the intention of ending a life of shame and misery. The water was shoal and she was prevented from consummating her rash purpose by some men who witnessed the act, who jumped in and brought her to the shore in a very damp unpleasant condition.

—Knox County Republican Convention, Saturday, nominated for State Senators Geo W Kimball, Jr, of Rockland, and S G Webster, of Vinalhaven; for County Commissioner, Jas Newhall, of South Thomaston, for County Treasurer, Chas A Davis, of Rockland.

—The Waterville Mail states that the corn crop in that vicinity must prove almost an entire failure owing to the drouth; the crop of apples will be exceedingly light and potatoes must be small in a good many fields. Wheat, oats and barley, have succeeded finely.

—A pleasure party, numbering some 20 or 30, from Minot Centre, went to the blueberry mountains, having a fine day and a good time with but few berries. The day passed very pleasantly, but when near home, one of the party (a son of Mr Clark, of Portland,) fell from the carriage, fracturing one bone of his arm near the wrist and dislocating it, so we learn from the Mechanic Falls Herald.

—The Lewiston Journal says the police of Auburn made a seizure of 80 gallons of liquor on Saturday.

—I S Kalloch, Esq, of Kansas, while on a recent visit to Waterville, purchased a Jersey cow of conductor Harrell for $225, and two calves of Dr Boutelle for $200, says the Mail.

—Prof Wm Warren Green, of Portland, removed an ovarian tumor, weighing 60 lbs, from Mrs Oaks, of Argyle, Aug. 22. He was assisted by Dr A F Hodson, of Oldtown, and Dr Gerrish.

SOMETHING TO TAKE ADVANTAGE OF. The Maine Farmer suggests that as the fair of the State and New England Societies at Portland takes place before any of the county societies hold their exhibitions, it will give an opportunity for their officers, managers and others interested to visit the New England Fair, learn what they can of its management, converse with its officers, examine its various departments, and learn all they possibly can to turn to advantage in conducting, with a view of attaining the best results, their own local fairs. Let the County Societies be well represented at the grand combination exhibition at Portland in September.

—Our Belfast correspondent sends us the following items:—

The Democratic County Convention was held here last Saturday. The whole number of delegates was about 100. There was some excitement and not a little sparring between the two elements of the party—the old fogies and "Young America," or the progressive element, in which the old fogies were victorious, as usual. The progressive members wished to select new line men as candidates, but the olders clung to their "rights" and to usage, and as a consequence, the same old names are seen upon their ticket with which we have been familiar for years. "Young America" threatens to bolt, but Democratic leading strings are so strong they will probably swallow the pill and march to the ballot box to the tune and with the leaders of Auld Lang Syne. The nominees for Senators were Adams, Treat, [illegible] of Frankfort, and Ezra Cox, of Liberty.

A trot for a purse of $200 came off on our fair grounds last Saturday. It was between two six-year-old stallions, one owned by David Cross, of Lincolnville, and the other by Harrison Hayford, of Belfast. The day was splendid, the track in the best order, and the attendance large. Best 3 in 5 mile heats. The first and second heats were won by the Hayford horse; time 2.54 and 3.17. The third heat was won by the Cross horse; time 2.50½. Fourth heat and race won by Hayford horse; time 2.46. We learn another race may come off between these horses in another section of the county.

Our weather seems like anything but dog-days. This morning is more like Oct. than August. Great coats and fires are in demand.

Work on the railroad goes silently but surely on. Over a thousand men are employed on the route and the grading is being pushed rapidly.

The second match game of Base Ball, between the Passagassawamkeags of Belfast, and the Penobscots of Bangor, will come off in this city next Friday, and will be witnessed by a large number of spectators.

The County Lodge of Good Templars at Freedom, last week, was one of the largest ever held. Thirteen lodges were represented and much interest was manifested. Speeches in favor of organized, separate political action were made by Dr A J Billings, of Freedom, E K Boyle of Belfast, and others, and a stirring resolution passed favoring the temperance party.

LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE. The new number of this handsome magazine contains The Vicar of Bullhampton, a novel, part 8, illustrated, by Anthony Trollope; Sonnets, by Paul H Hayne; Grouse Shooting, by January Searle; Myra's Mirror, by J Franklin Fitts; Land Monopoly, by George Fitzhugh; Unheard Replies, by Epes Sargent; Beyond the Breakers, a novel, part 9, by Hon. Robert Dale Owen; A Week in an Aquarium, by Malcolm Melluen; The National Debt, by Gen. Francis A Walker; Magdalena, a novelette, part 2, by the author of "Old Mam'selle's Secret;" Snow upon the Waters, by Mrs S H Hooper; That Man; An Embassage, by G Herbert Sass; Our Monthly Gossip; Literature of the Day. J B Lippincott and Co., publishers, 715 and 717 Market street, Philadelphia.

THE ATLANTIC MONTHLY. The wondrous tale told by Mrs Harriet Beecher Stowe concerning the domestic unhappiness of Lord and Lady Byron, in the article entitled, "The True Story of Lady Byron's Life," lends an exceptional interest to this number of the Atlantic Monthly, and quite overshadows the rest of its contents. The opening story is not so well contrived as a narrative of its melodramatic nature should have been, but has a certain local coloring that assists the deception, and shows a practised hand. "Was Reichenbach Right?" is a vague, mystical, dreamy sort of scientific speculation concerning the natural relations of man to nature. "A Lone Woman's Trip to Omaha and Beyond" is a striking record of wild western adventure. Mr Parton continues his Washington Sketches in a paper on "Log Rolling" in Congress. "Gabriello de Borghese" is finished in this number. "The Genius of Dore" furnishes an acute critique, with a theme for the display of his powers. The number concludes with a running fire of criticism at "a lot" of poets.

SEPTEMBER MAGAZINES. The September "Riverside" is introduced by a fresh frontispiece from Mr George G Lambdin. The picture is called "Town and Country," and is a good natured characterization of city and country children, when brought face to face. Two old favorites reappear—Porte Crayon, with his picture and stories of Virginia, and Abby Sage, with a new story from the old English poets, the sadly sweet "Patient Griselda." The editor has given also on the last page of the Magazine a piece of music of the seventeenth century, a lullaby song by Griselda. Dr Abbott describes "Sparing Shanks;" Miss Bishop publishes another of her pretty fairy poems and pictures; the editor's "Story of a Book" describes stereotyping and electrotyping, and John Ratcliffe, aided by Gaston Fay, gives an attractive account of "Woodcock shooting." Published by Hurd & Houghton, New York, $2 50 a year.

The Boston Advertiser regards the "grand combination" advertised by the Argus as a device to strengthen the Hichborn movement by creating an impression that Gov. Chamberlain is not so good a Republican as his competitor, who may therefore gain some votes. Why this plan won't work, the Advertiser shows, as follows:

The mistake committed by the promoters of this scheme is the supposition that the Republicans can be so easily deceived as not to see through the whole trick. Governor Chamberlain is certainly not less "radical" than the average of Republicans in Maine, and has often been accused of being in advance of his party. Insincere praise by the Democrats cannot cause the people to forget his fidelity. Pelting Mr. Fessenden is equally a waste of affection. Those who were disturbed by his vote on the impeachment trial are rapidly recovering from that affliction, and the opposition to his reelection, if there shall be such opposition a year hence when the choice is to be made, will come from other causes than political unfaithfulness. Present indications are that he would even now have such support among Republicans alone as to make his election by no means hopeless. The effect of the movement upon the internal organization of the Democrats would naturally be unfavorable. If their motto were not "everything for success," the young Democrats might reasonably argue that if Mr Fessenden and Governor Chamberlain are good enough Democrats to be put in office by Democratic help, the average Republicans of Maine are so too. In that case the most promising way to secure their election would be to join the Republican party off hand and work within its ranks to secure the object for which they are so anxious. It is by no means improbable that a considerable number may take this view of the matter and vote for Governor Chamberlain three weeks hence.

"POLITICAL INFLUENCE." "Reddy, the blacksmith," the notorious New York rough, who has just been arrested in California and returned to New York for a robbery committed in the latter city, is a well known and highly esteemed Democratic politician. For many years he has not only plied his avocation of thief and robber, but has been a "repeater," making it his business to bully and knock down persons approaching the polls with a view to vote differently from what he desired. Though repeatedly brought to trial for this offense, he was nearly always successful in avoiding trial and conviction on account of his political influence.

The Chicago Tribune prints letters from Major Powell, bringing authentic accounts of the expedition to the 22d of June—a date later than that of the reported catastrophe. Nothing had occurred to him to give the slightest foundation to the story, and at the time of his writing he was in happy unconsciousness that the great question with the newspapers was whether he and his companions were or were not "rolling down the rapid cataracts of the Green River into the dark and mysterious Colorado."

THE DROUTH. The drouth throughout Virginia, Maryland and District of Columbia excites general alarm. The corn crop in eastern Virginia will be worthless, while potatoes and other crops are in almost as bad a condition. Rain at this late day will fail to save the corn crop, to any localities. In the churches at Richmond, Lynchburg, Petersburg, and other towns of Virginia as well as in this city, earnest prayers were yesterday offered for rain. The air today is cooler than it has been for a week, and there are better signs of rain this evening.—Wash. dispatch to Journal, 23d.
